BULLETIN

May/June 2021 | Iyar/Sivan/Tammuz 5781 Issue No. 6

A few years before we moved to Andover, I was wandering through the woods not far from our family cottage in the Berkshires. I noticed a pine sapling poking through the rich mountain soil and decided to bring it home and plant it at our new house.

When we moved to Andover, I dug it up, wrapped its roots in burlap, and planted it in our new backyard.

Over the years, the roots sank deep into the earth. We moved to a new neighborhood; once more, I uprooted the tree and it followed us to our new home.

As we went through these moves, I felt uprooted as well. Thirty-one years ago this June, as we followed the moving truck up I-93 to Andover, it would be dishonest to say that I wasn't feeling anxious, intimidated by the prospect of leading such a large congregation. Would I live up to the expectations of the Search Committee that offered me the job? Could I possibly fill my predecessor's very large shoes?

We were lucky. I certainly made my share of mistakes, but there was never a moment that I didn't feel supported. Our extended Temple Emanuel family warmly welcomed us, and through the years strengthened us, and loved us in more ways than I could ever have imagined.

Rabbi Robert S. Goldstein

Our roots grew deep in this community. We have laughed together, celebrated holidays, watched kids grow, yours and mine. And we have experienced our share of losses. But always together.

And now, the end is in sight. This time, the tree stays in Andover, just as a piece of me will always be a part of this place. But the memories we created, the experiences we shared...they come with us. The warmth of your embrace, the respect you have always shown me, your love for my family and me... there is no distance too great; even the passage of time cannot erase these memories.

I am sad to leave, but excited about the next chapter of our lives. We arrived as young parents with two little girls and one on the way. We leave as grandparents, and we are looking forward to having more family time. I also know that in their wisdom, the Search Committee has chosen a talented and skilled new leader for Temple Emanuel. The future of the place I have grown to love is secure.

I am grateful to the previous Search Committee, who more than three decades ago took a chance on a relatively unseasoned young rabbi. I am thankful to the members of Temple Emanuel, a sacred kahal, a congregation that supported us. I am humbled by the embrace of an entire community that welcomed us into their hearts.

In the weeks ahead, we will have opportunities to say goodbye, and I look forward to our Virtual Farewell Service on June 11. But for now, it is with a full heart that I say how lucky I am and what an extraordinary experience it has been to serve as your rabbi. Thank you. May the years ahead bring us all an abundance of blessings and, with God's help, may we go from strength to strength.

A Message From Our President

"What a Long Strange Trip it's Been" is a line immortalized by the Grateful Dead in their 1970 smash hit "Truckin". Honestly, I never thought I'd make reference to Jerry Garcia's ensemble of rockers in a Temple bulletin, but then again, I never thought I'd be wearing a mask and avoiding human interaction for over a year. It truly has been a long strange trip as president of Temple Emanuel. This article is my last, as I will turn the reins over to the capable hands of David Trachtenberg on June 18, 2021. (Really, I'm not counting down the days)

Two years ago, when I took over the presidency from Amy Riemer, we were in the midst of searching for a new Rabbi, raising money for our 100th Anniversary Campaign, and gathering 'in person' for high holidays, life cycle event, social activities, religious and pre-school and so much more. All the presidents who preceded this office told me to prepare for a dizzying couple years. But, I'm sure they never imagined the uncertainty, and pivoting needed to chart the direction of Temple Emanuel in the midst of a world-wide pandemic.

No one knows how history will re-tell the story of the heroes and villains of the Coronavirus chronicles, but I'm confident that when our members reflect on how Temple Emanuel adapted, we'll be overwhelmed with great stories, exhaustive gratitude, and a collaborative spirit that serves as a launching pad that ignites our next one hundred year journey.

Our Temple's success starts with our senior leadership of Rabbi Goldstein, Cantor Idan Irelander, Maureen Chapman and Betsy Kachel. If there's any group of leaders deserving of a 'tip of the kippah', it is these four individuals.

Collectively they navigated us through an obstacle course unlike we've ever experienced. They kept the spirit, the music, the business and the education of our Temple functioning, albeit differently, but with the grace and respect that our members deserve.

Also, I want to extend my sincerest appreciation to the entire staff who adapted their lives, their methods, and their technology skills to meet the needs of our members, our students, and our community. It wasn't an easy journey, but in retrospect, I think we'd all agree that we've grown in ways we never imagined.

And finally, to the entire collection of volunteer leaders that include our executive board, our board of governors, committee chairs, and committee members. If any of you were told in advance the number of hours required to serve in your capacity, I'm sure you may have given your volunteer stewardship a second thought. But no, each of you embraced the challenges, and stepped up to help. We lead with one foot in the present and one foot in the future. We faced tough decisions. We argued. We celebrated. And there were many times we carried the 'tzoros' of our members on our shoulders and advocated for what was in the best interest of the Temple at large.

I'll reflect back on my presidency as a success; though I'll admit it was far from the path, expectations, or planning I had imagined. But I guess, that's what life is all about. As an old bible verse states..."Man Plans...God Laughs". Well, it's my hope that someday, we'll laugh, we'll reminisce, and we'll celebrate all that we accomplished during the most challenging time in our lifetime. And it's my hope to be in-person with you at the Temple, sharing hugs, singing songs, and perhaps an adult beverage, as soon as the gates reopen.

With deepest appreciation,
Marc S. Freedman
 President, Temple Emanuel 2019-2021

Along with Passover and Sukkot, Shavuot (the “Feast of Weeks”) is one of the three “Pilgrimage Festivals”. On Shavuot, God gave His holy treasure, the Torah, to us. Therefore, Shavuot is also known as Z’man Matan Torateinu, the time of the giving of the Torah. Because it is a major biblical holiday, Yizkor (remembrance service) is being held on Shavuot.

In Judaism, remembering is an integral component of our being, and it’s an essential part of our everyday lives. It is why we hold services in general, and Yizkor in particular. Services function as connectors between our past, present and future. We, as the Temple Emanuel community, have a shared past and will have a shared future. Yet, it is hard for me to grasp that this is the last Shavuot I will officiate with Rabbi Goldstein. It has been a privilege to learn from him and work alongside him for over 20 years. His teaching will continue to be a source of inspiration and guidance. The June 11th tribute service for Rabbi Goldstein promises to be a powerful and emotional event.

I feel blessed to be the bridge that leads this synagogue into its new chapter, and I’m honored to have this opportunity to welcome our new rabbi, Rabbi Max Chaiken. I am looking forward to a fruitful collaboration with Rabbi Chaiken, one that will enhance the Temple Emanuel community’s experience for many years to come. We’ve already started. Rabbi Chaiken and I are in the planning stages for the upcoming High Holy Days’ Services.

Speaking of services, our Confirmation class’ graduation is on May 21st. Mazal Tov to the Confirmation class of 2021! This is a super special event for me, personally, as my daughter, Yahli, is one of the confirmation students!

The preschool “Friendship Circle” graduation is on Friday morning, June 11th. Singing with our preschoolers every Friday during our “Shabbat with Cantor Idan” has been one of the highlights of my week. I wish the bluebirds Mazal Tov and good luck in their new journey! And, I wish all of you a healthy and joyful spring.

Chag Shavuot Sameach.

Cantor Idan Irelander

Rabbinic Intern

Ben Bag-Bag said: “Turn it over, and turn it over again, for all is within it. And look into it; And become gray and old therein; And do not move away from it, for you have no better portion than it. (Pirkei Avot 5:22)

For my final bulletin article as Temple Emanuel’s

Rabbinic Intern, I couldn’t help but leave you with the wisdom of Rabbi Ben Bag-Bag. Not only does Ben Bag-Bag have a spectacular name, he presents us with a unique and compelling way to distinguish the ordinary from the sacred. As you may have guessed, the “it” in Ben Bag-Bag’s instruction to “turn it over, and turn it over again” is the Torah. He teaches that a source of wisdom as deep and enduring as the Torah requires ongoing and innovative interpretation. It cannot be observed from a distance; it must be grappled with, wrestled with, turned this way and that. What’s more, every time we “turn” the Torah, we reveal something new. We make meaning, discover what’s important in life, find out about the world, draw nearer to our communities and connect with our innermost selves. We catch glimpses of the sublime, see the mundane in a new light. It is this quality that makes the Torah a holy thing: the sense that “all is within it” despite the fact that its words have, by and large, stayed the same for millennia. When we engage with Torah, the text springs to life. With fresh eyes, its timeless instruction is revealed to us anew.

Like Ben Bag-Bag’s perennial return to the Torah, I cannot seem to stay away from Temple Emanuel. From Red-Bird to Rabbinic Intern (the working title of my memoir), I have “turned” the Temple again and again. And in this ongoing process of turning, I have found a sense of meaning and belonging that has only gotten deeper over the years. I know that I am not alone in this regard. The Temple has supported so many as they have endeavored to live well and live Jewishly in the Merrimack Valley. It is something solid but not static—we can rely on it to change as we do. It is, in this way, the Temple is a holy thing and a sacred space: one can “turn it over, and turn it over again, for all is within it.”

I want to thank you all for allowing me to serve as your Rabbinic Intern. It was an honor and a privilege to return to Temple Emanuel in this capacity, particularly during such a strange and difficult year. I particularly wish to thank Rabbi Goldstein and Cantor Irelander for their mentorship and guidance. I will not soon forget what I have learned from them and from so many of you. May this summer be a joyful season of renewal for us all, and may you have a safe and meaningful return to the Temple in due course. Until next time!

Welcoming Rabbi Max Chaiken

Dear Temple Emanuel Community,

As the days grow longer, and the earth warms and blossoms, we are eagerly anticipating meeting you all in person later this summer. Hopefully, this bulletin finds you happy and healthy. I continue to be grateful for all the scientists, doctors and medical professionals who have worked so tirelessly for the past 18 months so that we can start to imagine a return to gathering safely in person in the year to come.

In the March-April bulletin, I answered a few questions from Maureen Chapman, our Executive Director, as a means of introducing myself, and it felt fitting that I would answer a few more questions in this bulletin before Danny and I arrive to Andover in just a few weeks' time.

Maureen: What made you want to become a rabbi? When and how did you know that was the path for you?

Rabbi Chaiken: Naturally, I have answered this question differently at different times throughout my life. As a teenager I started to consider the rabbinate, but later, during my undergraduate experience I thought I would become a lawyer. I studied economics and public policy, and I even prepared for and took the LSAT in preparation for law school. But just as I was preparing to work for a few years before applying to graduate school, the great recession of 2008-2009 was beginning, and the first jobs I found out of college were in Jewish education—teaching Hebrew, music, and more in several communities in the Boston area. During those years, living in the natural rhythm of Jewish time, I found a well of excitement and passion for serving my Jewish community. It was through teaching, and singing, then, that I felt a sense of being called to continued service to our people and our tradition in the rabbinate.

Maureen: Do you have a favorite character in the Torah? Who and why?

Rabbi Chaiken: It's hard to choose just one! So many of our biblical ancestors are compelling precisely because of their humanity—because they are not perfect, and because in both their mistakes, and their triumphs, we see a reflection of ourselves, our history, and our values. My Hebrew name Moshe Yonah gives me a special place in my heart for the prophets Moses and Jonah. Both are classically reluctant prophets, afraid of their own connection with the divine, and the struggle to find their way, but eventually find some measure of success. I am also drawn to many of the matriarchs in our Tanakh, whose lives and voices are sometimes muffled or muted, but who remind us that there are always more stories and perspectives to be revealed from the text.

Maureen: Tell us about your approach to prayer – what makes prayer meaningful for you?

Rabbi Chaiken: For me, there are many different aspects that can make prayer meaningful. Music was one of the first ways I connected with prayer, so that's often where I start. But it's important to me that the words and the prayers themselves have meaning, so I like to include poetry and meaningful translation when I pray and lead prayer too. I believe that regardless of how one feels about God, prayer can be an opportunity to practice gratitude, and focus our thoughts and minds on the kind of world we want to help create. Prayer can be a dialogue with the Divine, but it can also be a vehicle for reminding us of all the ways that we want to change our lives and the values we want to bring to others.

Maureen: What do you see as the greatest challenge facing the Jewish people today?

Rabbi Chaiken: We are living through a time of incredible change in the Jewish world, and the world at large. This unquestionably brings great challenges, and questions. What will our Jewish institutions look like as we start to gather in person again? What lessons will we learn, cherish, and hold onto from this time of pandemic? What are we eager to let go of? But the flip side of “challenge”, for me, is “opportunity”. Just as the challenges are great, so too are the opportunities we have in this moment: to reimagine the kind of Jewish life we want to live, and to work together to create it for our families, for our synagogue community, and for generations to come. To rise up to this moment, we will need to think expansively and creatively. We will need to listen to one another, and across differences within our Jewish world. We will need to empower one another to be preservers and translators of our sacred tradition. And we will need to remember, as our sages taught in Pirkei Avot, that “it is not our duty to finish the work, but neither are we free to neglect it”. (Pirkei Avot 2:16)

Maureen: During the congregational meeting in February, you were asked about your vision for the congregation, and what you hope your community will look like. Can you share about that again?

Rabbi Chaiken: I love imagining the kind of community we can build together. I hope, and I pray, that together we will foster a community where our children grow to love being Jewish and feel connected and inspired by Judaism; where people of all ages, backgrounds, and identities feel welcome and empowered to bring Judaism to life; where we know that the sacred teachings of our tradition are not static on a page, but belong on the path of our lives as we pursue holiness and meaning. I pray that our congregation will continue to be a source of connection to one another, to our ancestors, and to our descendants. I want our community to be a place where we can learn, pray, grow, and sing as a Jewish people, and where we celebrate and comfort one another during all the joys and “oys” of our lives. I strive to foster a community where we are courageous enough to question our beliefs, and simultaneously confident enough to share them, knowing that Judaism and the Jewish people have something to offer the world at large. And while all of this may be quite a lofty vision, each aspect of it represents something we can build and work for together.

I hope that these questions have continued to help you get to know me a bit better!

I look forward to meeting you all very soon, and I wish you joy, safety, and health until then!

Do you have questions for Rabbi Chaiken? If so feel free to send them with subject line "Bulletin Question" to his Temple Emanuel inbox - mchaiken@templemanuel.net.

Education

What a year this has been! And it isn't over yet! In our religious school we are looking forward to our May Havdalah Drive-In event, our special Confirmation service and of course our final Sunday together for this year. Details on how to participate in all of these wonderful celebrations can be found in our weekly e-news! Our Preschool is thrilled to welcome the warmer weather, and we'll move much of our learning back outdoors as we did in the fall. The outdoor classroom/mud kitchen has become a favorite spot for our youngest learners this year. We look forward to special year end celebrations for those children moving on to elementary school. Details will be emailed out regarding preschool festivities!

Whether your child has attended our virtual religious school this year or attended in person preschool, we are so grateful for your support and participation. Our community has never felt stronger or more connected. I would like to personally thank our education staff. They have done an exemplary job. Learning how to navigate new platforms for teaching, mailing and emailing materials, wearing masks and sanitizing toys and spaces and following protocols to keep your children safe has been no small feat.

Please join me in thanking: Bonnie Wheelwright (Bluebirds and Gan) Linsey Goldman (Redbirds and Aleph), Melanie Shipon (Bet), Michelle Chachus (Bet), Marcie Trager (Gimel), Lois Rubin (Gimel and Zayin), Toby Lazerson (Dalet), Andi Hirth (Redbirds and Dalet), Trudy Zakin (Hey), Yael Sokolow (Hey and Vav), Sara Berman (Hey and Vav), Tammy Goldman (support staff), Stacie Trager (support staff), Rachel Rosenbaum (Zayin), Susie Novick (8th), Sam Weiss (9th), Sherry Gordon-Shulik (CHAI Educator and Youth Group Advisor), Mary Russo (Assistant Director and Chickadees), Lisa Kole (Chickadees), Julie McCarthy (Kindergarten), Renee Metsch (Redbirds), Marcie Bailey (Redbirds), Lynn Bowen (Redbirds), Amy Salomon (Bluebirds), Jaime Landry (Bluebirds), and Sue Brenner (Bluebirds).

I would also like to thank our school administrators Janice Strong and Judy Matulsky for keeping our school offices going. Without their organization, expertise, and never ending commitment and compassion for all of our students and their families, this year would not have been the success that it was.

During these unimaginable times, we remained connected and more importantly our learning did not stop. On behalf of our temple schools, I wish you a summer that brings joyful reunions with family and friends, the return to our beloved summer camps and long awaited outdoor summer activities. We look forward to returning in person next Fall! Until then, happy spring/summer!

Celebration to Honor RABBI ROBERT S. GOLDSTEIN

Thanks to the more than 370 families and businesses who generously donated to the Tribute for Rabbi Robert Goldstein, funds raised will be used to:

Upcoming Events

*Please note all events will be held in a virtual format unless otherwise noted.

Bible Study with Rabbi Goldstein Thursdays, 10:30am

Join Rabbi Goldstein for a lively hour full of discussion, debate and, of course, humor. Participation encouraged!

Song Sessions with Cantor Idan Irelander Mondays and Wednesdays, 7:00pm

Join Cantor Idan Irelander for a song session of healing and uplifting of spirits.

Book Group The Orchard by David Hopen Tuesday, May 11, 7:00pm

This story blends philosophical questions with a unique thriller and a group of teenagers who command your attention. There's a kind of yearning at the heart of the novel, of reckoning with those moments when we transform, wondering how we got there, and if we could ever go back to the beginning.

Book Discussion with Jean Trounstein Author of A Boy with A Knife Thursday, May 13, 7:00pm

Join the author, Jean Trounstein, to discuss this story of murder, remorse and a prisoner's fight for justice.

Anti-Asian Hate Discussion with Rep. Tram Nguyen Sunday, May 16, 12 Noon

Rep. Nguyen will share her experience with the rise in Anti-Asian hate and the impact on the community.

Sisterhood Ways and Means Thursday, May 20, 6:30pm

A delicious meal from Salvatore's Riverwalk can be picked up at the temple. Then join on Zoom to offer best wishes to Faith Goldstein. In honor of her dedication to education, our theme for the night is "literacy awareness". There will be a children's book drive during the meal pickup to donate to organizations in need. Check your email for your invitation to join and RSVP information!

Brotherhood Men's Night Out Thursday, May 20, 7:00pm

Play the game "Psych" on Zoom. This will give us the opportunity to gather, hopefully, one last time in the virtual mode as we set our sights on being together, in person, in the fall. Do not forget to bring your favorite beverages and snacks for a fun evening.

"Taking Up Space" Book Launch with Alyson Gerber Sunday, May 23, 11:00am

Join Best Selling Book Author and Temple Emanuel Alumna, Alyson Gerber, for a special virtual book launch! Special grab bags and pre-ordered books will be available for pick up at the temple from 10:00-10:30am. Hear Alyson read an excerpt from her book and play a few games for a chance to win prizes!.

Brotherhood Placing of Flags Sunday, May 23, 12 Noon

At Temple Emanuel Cemetery on Mount Vernon Street. Take time to remember our brothers who have sacrificed so much in defense of our country by placing flags at local cemeteries at the graves of Jewish veterans. All are welcome including children. Please RSVP to Mike Emmi mjemmi@comcast.net if you will be joining us for this mitzvah and act of remembrance.

Friday Sabbath Eve Service Honoring our Graduates Friday, June 4, 6:30pm

We will celebrate all those who are graduating from High School and College, and even Graduate School. Please send in the names of your family and friends, along with a photo and where they will be graduating from so we can recognize them during this special service to Maureen at mchapman@templemanuel.net.

Rabbi Goldstein Farewell Shabbat Friday, June 11, 6:30pm

See Page 8 for more details

Annual Meeting and Sabbath Eve Board Installation and Volunteer Recognition Service 6:00pm Annual Meeting 6:30pm Sabbath Eve Service

FULL DAY KINDERGARTEN ENROLLMENT NOW AVAILABLE AT THE PRESCHOOL AT TEMPLE EMANUEL!

This unique program offers small class sizes and play based learning. The curriculum aligns with the Massachusetts state frameworks as well as the Andover Public Schools. # Brotherhood

Neal Roberts, Brotherhood President

As we head into the summer season and enjoy the warmth and sunshine, the Brotherhood board is already hard at work planning events for the fall and next year. We are proud to say that, even during a pandemic, we had our most successful membership drive ever this past year, and we thank you for supporting us! As a result, we had many new faces participate in our programming and hope to continue to build off of this momentum next year. As we wrap up this year, we still have a couple of programs coming up in which we welcome all Brotherhood members to participate.

We will join together for our final Men's Night Out of the season on Thursday, May 20th virtually. This will give us the opportunity to gather, hopefully, one last time in the virtual mode as we set our sights on being together, in person, in the fall. Do not forget to bring your favorite beverages and snacks for a fun evening of conversation!

Our golf subcommittee is busy planning times and places for those interested in spending some time together on the links. We thank all of you who participated in our survey which is leading our committee on the path to some spectacular golf outings this spring. We plan on holding monthly golf outings beginning in early May, playing at Trull Brook for the first round and then we will rotate through different courses thereafter. Look for more information about these dates as well as an end of season golf weekend in late September as they are scheduled.

As we do each year, we take time to remember our brothers who have sacrificed so much in defense of our country by placing flags at local cemeteries at the graves of Jewish veterans. This year we will meet on Sunday, May 23rd at Noon at the Temple Emanuel Cemetery on Mt. Vernon Street in Lawrence and then continue to two other local burial grounds. All are welcome including children. Please RSVP to Mike Emmi mjemmi@comcast.net if you will be joining us for this mitzvah and act of remembrance.

I leave you with my wishes for a great spring, and a wonderful start to wherever your summer plans may take you.

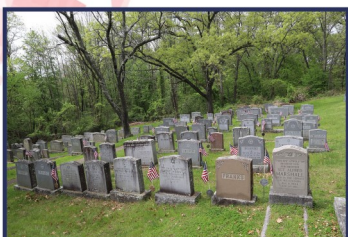

Please join us for this important mitzvah as we place flags at the graves of our Jewish war veterans interred at local cemeteries

Sunday May 23, 2021 - 12:00 Noon
Meet at the Temple Emanuel Cemetery on Mt. Vernon Street Lawrence

This act of remembrance should take approx. one hour

Families are encouraged to attend.

Sisterhood

Andi Hirth, Sisterhood President

In these times that are like no other, the Sisterhood continues to be here to offer support and connection to this community in ways that are safe for all. As the weather gets warmer, the days get longer, and we move forward together, the opportunities to gather safely become possible and more plentiful. We are all looking forward to that time!

Our annual Ways and Means event will be held on Thursday, May 20, 2021, although it will look a bit different this year. Much like our Paid Up Supper in the fall, we will be offering a delicious meal from Salvatore's Riverwalk in Lawrence for pick up at the temple. Reheat your meal and join us on Zoom for an opportunity to connect and offer your best wishes to Faith Goldstein as she and Rabbi Goldstein begin the next chapter of their journey. In honor of Faith and her dedication to education, our theme for the night is "literacy awareness". We will be holding a children's book drive during the meal pickup to donate to organizations in need in the Merrimack Valley. Check your email for your invitation to join and RSVP information!

During the evening of Ways and Means, we will be welcoming a new Sisterhood Board who will lead us into our next chapter. Under the leadership of new president, Meryl Trachtenberg and vice president, Alyson D'Angelo, I am excited to see what the future holds for our Sisterhood. This is an amazing group of women we are fortunate to be a part of, and I believe we will continue to be a vibrant, connected Sisterhood community.

It is hard to believe that my time as Sisterhood president is coming to a close. It is safe to say that being Sisterhood president during this pandemic was both challenging and inspiring. I want to take this opportunity to thank all who helped make the past two years so memorable. Thank you all for the opportunity to be a part of this wonderful temple community in such a meaningful way.

May B'Nai Mitzvah

Leah Weber, Saturday, May 1, 10:30am
Interests Violin, Softball, Skating, Traveling, Drawing, Acting and Playing with my dog.

For my Bat Mitzvah project, I will be volunteering at Cradles to Crayons, an organization which addresses the issue of childhood poverty. I am collecting household items and clothes

Jacob Mariani, Saturday, May 8, 6:30pm
Interests: Hockey, Lacrosse, Football and Fishing

For my Bar Mitzvah project, in memory of my grandparents, I am working with Dana Farber and the Jimmy Fund to "Put Cancer in the Penalty Box" by raising money to assist these organizations with fulfilling the much needed items on the Jimmy Fund's Amazon Wish List.

Atticus Baden, Saturday, May 15, 10:30am

Interests: Track, Rowing, and Video games.

For my Bar Mitzvah project, I am selling mugs and coasters for the Andover Youth Center.

Dylan Moses, Saturday, May 22, 10:30am

Interests: Downhill racing, Sailing, Remote control airplanes, Model rockets, and Bike riding.

For my Bar Mitzvah project: I am raising money for Roots-Shorashim, a grassroots organization whose goals include security, freedom, and equality of civil, political and national rights for Israelis and Palestinians. We visited Roots-Shorashim in December 2019, as part of Temple Emanuel's trip to Israel, and I was moved by the stories of the Jews and Arabs we met that day.

On April 10, we welcomed our first in house Bar Mitzvah since closing our sanctuary doors last March.

We observed COVID-19 Safety Protocols as set forth by the State of Massachusetts and our COVID-19 Task Force.

Thank you to Matthew and Lindi Lann for the generous donation of sneeze guards to protect all those in attendance for B'nai Mitzvah services.

June B’Nai Mitzvah

Drake Tarlow, Friday, June 4, 4:30pm

Interests: WVBBTS Ski racing, Cedardale/North Shore Tennis League, Karate
2nd Degree Blackbelt, Basketball, Soccer, Surfing, Biking, Skateboarding, Football, Reading, and Video games.

For my Bar Mitzvah project, I will be collecting supplies and assembling “Birthdays in a Box” for Birthday Wishes, a non profit that brings the magic of birthdays to homeless children.

Emma Remis, Saturday, June 5, 10:30am

Interests: Basketball, Softball and Being outside with my friends.

For my Bat Mitzvah Project, I am raising money for the MSPCA because I love animals. I created animal stickers that people could buy to support this wonderful cause and have already raised over $1,000.

Annabelle Joyner, Saturday, June 5, 5:30pm

Interests: Ice hockey, Musical theater, Piano, Comics, and Reading.

For my Bat Mitzvah project, I am collecting items from a different category each month between January and June to donate to the Merrimack Valley YMCA food pantry.

Noah Aronson, Saturday, June 19, 10:30am

Interests: Soccer, Tennis, Biking, Skiing, Cooking, and Traveling.

For my Bar Mitzvah project, I volunteered at a Project where Great Danes are trained to be service dogs. This can be costly and they are placed at no charge to the client.

Zachary Aronson, Saturday, June 19, 10:30am

Interests: Basketball, Baseball, Skiing, Biking, and Reading.

For my Bar Mitzvah project, in honor of my grandmother who died of pancreatic cancer, I raised money for PanCan, a non profit organization helping to find a cure. I hosted a bake sale and donated all of the proceeds.

Abigail Mittelman, Saturday, June 26, 5:30pm

Interests: Skateboarding, Surfing, Volleyball, Playing video games, and Drawing.

For my Bat Mitzvah project, I volunteered at the May Center School for Autism. I also raised money for the students to help pay for field trips, school pictures, and supplies like iPads.
